

Ready for Rollout?

Sure you took the technical training.
But now that you've closed a deal,
some back-up wouldn't hurt.

We've got you covered.

So what's the catch?

- You must dedicate a full-time technical resource to run the project.
- Your project lead must have completed SIVA's technical training course.
- Your rollout must take place before July 1, 2004.

SIVA implementation resources will be scheduled on a first come, first served basis and availability is limited. Call David Joyce, Vice President of Professional Services, at 561.272.2121 to get your project going today.

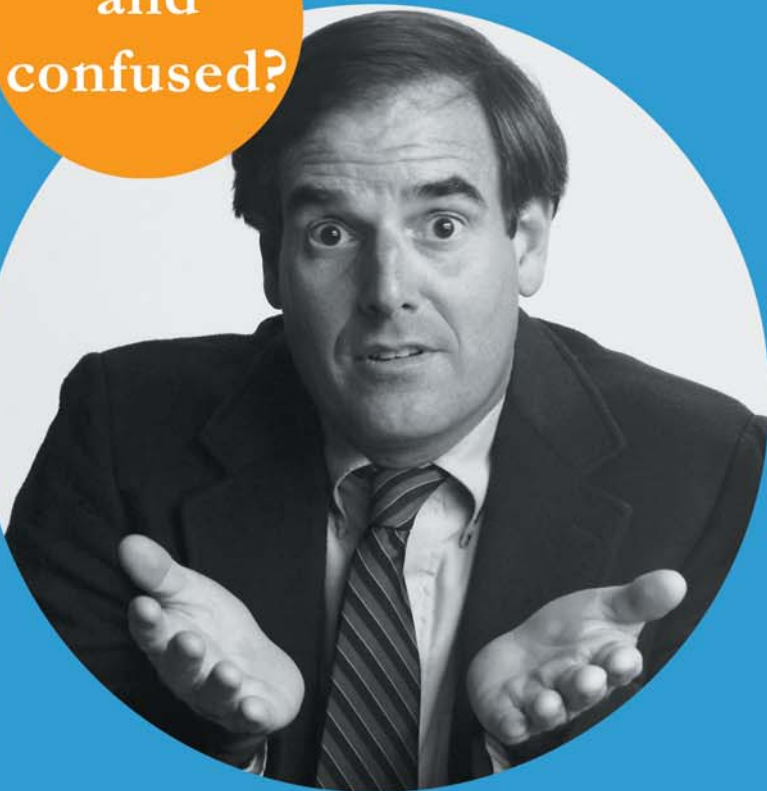

Between now and July 1st, we will provide a SIVA implementation specialist to support your technician on your first two customer installations at no cost to you. That's right. No hourly fees, no travel and expenses...just an expert to work side by side with your implementation staff on your first two projects.
