What do you want in your next POS?

And the next?

And the next?

And the next?

SIVA™

Are you ready for what's next?

Today's points of sale are constantly multiplying with customers demanding new ordering opportunities and operational modes from your restaurants. Self-service kiosks. Curbside takeout. On-line ordering. Delivery. You have to look ahead—to the new profit centers that your business may add and the new technologies that will be necessary to support them.

How do you find a point-of-sale solution that can meet your needs today and tomorrow?

When it comes to technology that will stand the test of time, some of the most successful restaurant operators in the world have chosen to invest their future in SIVA's iSIVA point-of-sale application running on NCR RealPOS™ 70 terminals. It's a robust, reliable solution for today and the right enterprise infrastructure for extending your restaurant's order points as your business needs evolve.

Now and for the future, SIVA is what's next.
